EXPERIENCE

FuelSignal, Austin — Front-End Development UI/UX

FEBRUARY 2015 - MARCH 2015

My most recent Web Development work was on fuelsignal.com, I was a W-9 employee for their company. They needed a new website for an upcoming conference, their design team was going to take 2 weeks, and there Developers were going to take another 3 to put the whole thing together. They hired me to build it because I was able to both design and Develop the entire Front-End of www.fuelsignal.com in 3 weeks. I developed this website on the bootstrap framework.
